CIVIL WAR.

The Conflict to be Prolonged.

Issy Still Held by Communists.

The Castle of Issy Destroyed.

Treachery in the Communist Camp

Negotiations for a Compromise.

MacMahon Threatens to Carry the City by Assault.

All Hopes of Peace Abandoned—Castle of Issy Burned—The Fort Being Intrenched—Naval Battle Expected.

LONDON, May 5.—The Times' special from Paris says that all hopes of peace have been abandoned. Delegations of Free Masons have gone to the provinces to agitate in favor of the Commune.

There was a constant heavy firing yesterday between the forts.

A Times Versailles dispatch says that Favre and Ponier Quertier have gone to Frankfort-on-the-Main to meet Prince Bismarck.

The Daily News' special dispatch says the Versailles forces are shelling Auteuil from the battery at Montretout.

The Prussians allow provisions to enter Paris, which occasions uneasiness at Versailles.

The Castle of Issy has been burned.

A letter to the Telegraph says that General Rossel, the new Minister of War, defends the conduct of General Cluseret.

The Republican League demands negotiations for a truce of twenty days.

The station at Auteuil has been damaged by the fire of the Versailles batteries, and the inhabitants of the place are flying in dismay.

In the bombardment since Friday, the insurgents have lost two thousand men in killed, wounded and prisoners.

PARIS, May 5.—The Communists still hold Fort Issy, and are having it intrenched. The fort continues to fire slowly upon the Versaillist batteries at Clamart and Bas Meudon, and receives in return a perfect hail of projectiles. Fort Vanvres also keeps up a slow fire, and is vigorously shelled by the Versaillists at Clamart and Chatillon.

The Assemblists have unmasked a formidable battery at Montretout, near St. Cloud, which menaces Auteuil, Pont du Jour and Passy.

VERSAILLES, May 5.—St. Germaine has been taken possession of by the Versailles forces, who have established a battery there with which to shell the insurgent gunboats on the Seine.

A naval combat is expected. Fort Montrouge and Haute Bruyeres are constantly bombarded by the Versailles batteries at Chatillon, but without important results.

The Communists have occupied the trenches at Villejuif. Fort Issy replies sharply to the fire of the Versailles batteries. A great movement is expected upon Neuilly and Lavallois.

It is said that Prince Napoleon is in London.

A dispatch from Paris announces that Gen. Rossel has been wounded in the shoulder.

The Communists Acknowledge Reverses.

PARIS, May 5.—A decree has been issued by the Commune, abolishing all political and professional oaths. The official journal of the Commune says the federal position at Moulin la Quet was surprised in consequence of the treachery of some of the garrison, who sold the pass word to the Versaillists. The journal adds that the place has been recaptured, as has also the railway station at Clamart. The official journal says Chateau Issy was set fire to and burned by federal shells. The same journal admits that the Communists have suffered serious losses in prisoners and cannon. It also admits that the Versaillists have advanced to and constructed barricades at Neuilly. Lavallois and Neuilly have been set fire to by shells from Fort Mont Valerein.

Object of Favre's Journey to Frankfort.

VERSAILLES, May 5.—The Communists' statement that the Federal troops have re-occupied Clamart is false. The journey of Favre and Ponier Quertier to Frankfort is for the purpose of arranging the difficulties which have arisen in negotiations at Brussels, and hastening the signing of the treaty of peace.

Firing continues along the lines to-day, but there is no change in the position of the belligerents.

Masons' Moving for Peace.

LONDON, May 5.—A dispatch from Havre says the Free Masons of that city, and Fecamp have agreed to make joint overtures to the Versailles Government and Paris Commune for the institution of negotiations looking to peace.

Negotiations for a Compromise—If They Fail MacMahon will Carry the City by Assault.

Special to the World.]

VERSAILLES, May 5.—Until now Thiers has depended upon the co-operation of a party inside Paris who promised to rise up against the Commune the moment Thiers gave the signal. The movement was to have been made Tuesday night, but their courage failed at the last moment, and nothing was done. Negotiations are now progressing for an armistice to effect a compromise, and should these fail, Marshal MacMahon will carry the city by assault.

All Attempts at Conciliation Hopeless.

VERSAILLES, Evening, May 5.—There was considerable firing around Fort Issy to-day, but nothing of importance done. All attempts at conciliation are hopeless.

It is said that two seafaring men, recently arrived in this city, state that the Maria is running the Cuban blockade from a Southern port under the command of a Spanish Captain, and that a rumor is current to the effect that Captain Martin had been murdered by his crew. Steps have been taken to insure her seizure by the United States Consular authorities in Cuba, San Domingo, New Providence and Aspinwall. FISK'S CASE AGAINST THE UNION PACIFIC.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The bill of complaint in the suit of James Fisk, Jr., against the Union Pacific Railroad and Credit Mobilier, which was originally begun in the Supreme Court, was filed this morning in the Clerk's office of the United States Circuit Court, under the recent order of removal. This is the case in which Fisk accuses the Union Pacific Company, the Credit Mobilier and other defendants, of forming a conspiracy to forward the interest of certain stockholders.

DELVING FOR TRUTH IN THE ERIE CASE.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Reference in the case of Heath & Raphael against the Erie Company was continued this afternoon. Georgianni R. Morsina, auditor of the Erie Company, was the first witness called. He testified that he kept no book containing a special account of the transactions between the Erie Company and Williard, Martin & Bache. All moneys received from them were entered in his books with other accounts, and all identity lost. The witness knew nothing of the new issue of stock until he read it in the newspapers. There was no entry in his books of such issues of stocks, and so far as he knew there was no record of such an issue in any book. He kept no account of the outstanding liabilities of the company, but entered them in a lump on his balances. The company formerly kept an account of convertible bonds, but it had been closed a long time. No such account was kept at present. He had never been informed of the issue of convertible bonds; and in consequence there was no entry of them in the books witness examined, and it was discovered that on the 28th of December, 1870, there was two hundred thousand dollars in the hands of the treasurer in favor of Williard, Martin & Bache. During the months of December, 1870, and January, 1871, large sums of money were received from that firm. They were entered on the books of the company as loans. No certificates of stock were credited on the books to Williard, Martin & Bache during the two months. No stock was credited to Jay Gould. The account between the company and Williard, Martin & Bache was an open account. At the end of January he had on his books $925,000 in favor of W., M. & Bache, all of which had been appropriated to pay current expenses.

John A. Helton, transfer clerk, was next called. He said in the month of December, 1870, twenty-five hundred shares of stock were credited to P. J. Titus, and still stand to his credit. After the entry of these stocks were the letters "W. M. B." These letters, witness explained, that Titus was with Williard, Martin & Bache. The whole amount of stock in December, 1870, credited to Titus was twelve thousand shares. He could not tell if the twenty-five hundred shares credited at first, and which were part of the new issue, formed part of the twelve thousand shares.

SOILED LINEN.

Woodhull, Claflin & Co.—Family Matters in a Police Court—A "Black" Villain with an Alias—A Weak-Minded Mother with Strong-Minded Daughters—Is it a Blackmailing Scheme?

NEW YORK, May 5.—A morning paper has the following: A curious case came up yesterday afternoon before Justice Ledwith, in the Essex Market Police Court. It was an application for the issue of a warrant for the arrest of Jas. H. Blood, alias Dr. J. H. Harvey, the "Co." of the firm of Woodhull & Claflin. The application was made by Annie Claflin, mother of Mrs. Woodhull. Mrs. Claflin says in her affidavit that Blood, otherwise known as Dr. J. H. Harvey, occupies the same bed with her daughter Victoria, and that said Blood has been in her family for the last six years; that since his entrance into her family he has made every effort to corrupt and has corrupted not only her daughter Victoria, but through his machinations and intrigues has excited her daughter Tennessee, and entirely weaned them from deponent, and deponent says that during the time she resided in said house she has often heard said Blood insist that her daughter Tennessee should make efforts to secure the attentions of different married gentlemen in order that said Blood and Victoria and Tennessee might combinedly make money out of such person; and deponent says that she has known such married gentlemen who have been taken in and blackmailed in such house. She had often heard Blood, who is the receiver of all the moneys that come into the possession of the firm of Woodhull, Claflin & Co., say that no books or any accounts has been kept by said firm until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between dealers with said firm and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and Broad street would be too hot for them. She further says she believes Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughters, and especially Tennessee, and that he has threatened her life. She does not feel safe from Blood, and prays he may be arrested and dealt with according to law. The affidavit is supported by others signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sharr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin. Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail. Her mother is old and weak minded, and has been induced by some means to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

Germany Hails the New Luther.

A letter from Frankfort-on-the-Main, April 18th, says: The opposition to the infallibility decree of the late Council at Rome, begun in Bavaria by Prof. Von Doellinger, and publicly outspoken in his celebrated declaration of the 28th of March, is continually gaining greater proportions. It is no longer confined to Bavaria, but men sharing Dr. Von Doellinger's views have raised their voices in other parts of the German Empire, in Switzerland and in Vienna. Some have already been suspended from their priestly office, and others are threatened with excommunication in case they refuse to recant. From all parts of Germany, more especially from Munich, Dr. Von Doellinger has been overwhelmed with addresses from Roman Catholic bodies, supporting the position he has taken against the new dogma. In Munich mass meetings of Roman Catholics have been held in his favor, and, from all the accounts, there is scarcely a doubt but that King Ludwig is supporting the aged Luther of the nineteenth century, as Dr. Von Doellinger is often called in Germany. The government has now refused to grant the request made by the Bishop of Bamberg for the royal placet necessary before the new dogma can be promulgated in Bavaria. This is considered by some as the first step toward the abolition of the concordat."

Improvement of the Ohio River.

The Trade of the West in an able article showing the almost national character of the subject referred to in our heading, says truly from the parsimonious way in which Congress responds to the appeals which are made for appropriations to deepen the channel of the Ohio river and remove existing obstructions to its safe navigation, a stranger would almost suppose that it was nothing but a shallow bayou, navigated at intervals by a few flatboats of a past generation. Though this sounds harsh, it is high time that our temporizing policy in regard to Western rivers should give place to broad, statesmanlike measures that should not only meet present wants, but look forward to the demands of our inland commerce many times greater than is now required to supply our infant States and Territories. We are glad to see that the Trade of the West will furnish a series of articles on this vital question.

The Appointment of Hon. James A. Logan.

GREENSBURG, May 5, 1871.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

The Pittsburgh Post of this date, in announcing the appointment of Mr. Logan as Judge of this district, in the room of Judge Buffington, resigned, heads the article "Another Brother-in-law cared for."

Allow me to correct, through your columns, the erroneous impression implied. Hon. James A. Logan, who has just received the well merited honor of that appointment from the Governor, is no relation, by blood or marriage, of the Executive; and the charge of nepotism might have been made with the same truth, had the appointment been conferred upon a "Chinee." I presume the error was the result of misinformation, and that the conductors of the Post are gentlemanly enough to take the first opportunity to make the correction. D. W. S.

WASHINGTON.

Cameron Learning His A, B, C's

In International Matters—The New National Bank Currency—Base Ball, &c., &c.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5, 1871.

The New Currency.

Up to date fourteen and a half millions of the fifty-four millions of newly authorized national bank currency has been issued. Only about five millions more has been awarded. The banks which are to recover the latter are not yet completely organized.

Cameron Learning His A, B, C's.

Senators Morton and Cameron were present by request at the Cabinet discussion to-day of the treaty submitted by the High Commission. On account of Senator Cameron's well known diffidence in the management of international questions on the Senate Committee, the treaty and accompanying documents were, after the Cabinet meeting, put into the hands of Senator Morton. The latter is engaged this evening at his rooms in explaining the papers to Cameron as Chairman of his Committee.

Wasted Space.

About five thousand spectators were assembled today on the Olympic ball grounds in this city, to witness the long heralded contest between that club and the Red Stockings of Boston. The latter club brought its best team into the field, but the Olympics were obliged to play with two substitutes, there being Hall in place of Sweney at second base, and Burroughs in place of Glenn at right field. There was considerable difficulty in selecting an umpire, but a compromise was finally effected in a department clerk here, who, although he had assisted in getting up the Olympic organization, was not a member of it. The Red Stockings won the toss and sent their opponents to the bat. To the surprise of everybody, who expected to witness a small score, the Olympics run up six tallies before they were sent to the field. This they succeeded on almost duplicating before the Reds had got fairly started. On the last half of the third inning the Reds succeeded in scoring seven, the largest number made in any one inning of the game. This was accomplished not so much through the good play of the Boston nine as several very bad muffs indulged in by the Olympics. The latter, however, soon rallied and had fairly won the game beyond all question both by good fielding and batting, when Allison sprained his thumb and was obliged to retire. This necessitated the placing of Waterman behind the bat, whose place at third base was filled by a substitute. The effect of this change was immediately felt, and turned the game in favor of the Red Stockings. In one wild throw, made from third to first to head off Cone, who had struck short in that direction, which went far over Mills's head, who was playing in the latter position, the Red Stockings were enabled to add two to their score, which they certainly would not otherwise have obtained. At the close of the eighth inning the score stood 18 to 15 in favor of the Olympics, and the Reds had not shown any play during the day which would indicate that they would overcome these odds. In fact, up to this time they had been outbatted and outfielded by their opponents. They went to the bat in the ninth inning, and were whitewashed without having made a single first base hit. With but three to tie and four to beat, Harry Wright opened the inning for the Olympics. He got his first on called balls, and took his third on a long hit to center by Gould. Schafer followed with another strike on which he got third, bringing home Gould and Wright amid wild cheering. Cone took first on called balls, and was followed by Spalding, who sent a sky-scraper over the center fielder's head, clearing the bases again, and reaching third himself. George Wright made his first good strike of the day, on which he only got to first. Barnes got Spalding home, and was favored the same way by Birdsall, George Wright being put out trying to make second. The side then went out in one, two order, and the game closed with a score of 20 to 18 in favor of the Reds. The game was a very fair one, although not up to general expectations. The score was spoiled by the umpire, whose rulings were of such a character as to put all batting qualities out of the question. He kept the bases full continually by calling every ball either as a strike or a count, and the consequence was that the poorest batter got his base equally with the best. The only good batting that was done was on the last half of the ninth inning, when Brainard stopped his swift pitching for fear of passed balls by reason of Allison's misfortune. The grounds were also in bad condition, on account of the recent heavy rains. It is generally conceded, however, that the Boston club would have been beaten except for the accident to Allison. At the most vital portion of the game the Reds made several wretched muffs, such as dropping flies, overthrows and general bad playing. They will have to vastly improve before they will be up to the old Red Stocking discipline.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.

THE TREATY.

The Commissioners have adjourned until Saturday in order to give the Cabinet time to examine all the conditions embraced in the treaty, and if the Cabinet shall suggest any amendment or change, the same will receive the attention of the Commission on Saturday. It will then be signed in duplicate by all the members of the Commission, on behalf of both Governments, there being no dissatisfaction expressed by any member, and all being fully satisfied that the treaty is just, fair and honorable to both Governments. Every American member of the Commission expresses his unhesitating belief that it will be ratified, and Judge Nelson, who is the only Democratic member, is enthusiastic in his admiration for its provisions. He says no fair-minded American, who examines the subject intelligently and with candor, can fail to approve the treaty in all its points.

THE NEW LOAN.

Advices from Europe report that not a dollar has been taken there, while the fiscal agents in this country state that capital derived from the sale of five-twenties is seeking investment in first-class mortgage railway bonds in preference to a Government bond of a lower rate of interest. The result of this condition of things is a determination to change the programme at home and abroad. Already Treasurer Spinner has been sent to Europe with fresh instructions, and next week the Assistant Secretary will leave for London on a similar mission. The President spent some time at the Treasury Department to-day conferring with its officials, and discussing offers which foreign bankers have made. In all cases it appears that a more liberal commission is urged by the foreign bankers and agents.

MR. SUMNER.

The report that Mr. Sumner is writing a speech in opposition to the treaty, and that he will take occasion in it to explain his unfriendly relations with Secretary Fish, is unfounded. Mr. Sumner has not seen the treaty, and he will not oppose it, unless it shall appear to his mind, after an examination, that it is unwise and defective. Senator Morton will probably have the management of the treaty in the Senate.

PERSONAL.

Senators Morton and Cameron arrived here this morning, and in the course of the forenoon together visited the Executive Mansion and had an interview with the President.

Secretary Boutwell having returned to Washington, resumed business at the Treasury Department this morning.

THE TREATY TO BE SIGNED ON TUESDAY.

The Joint High Commission will not probably sign the treaty until Tuesday next. Among the few things positively known concerning it is that it will provide only for the adjudication of claims both of the United States and Great Britain arising from 1861 till the close of the war in 1865. The probability is that there will be a full Senate on Wednesday next. Among those now or recently in Washington are Senators Morrill, of Maine, Morton, Cameron, Casserly, Cole, Cragin, Howe, Pomeroy, Sawyer, Stockton and Sumner. Senators Stewart and Nye, of Nevada, and Corbett and Kelly, of Oregon are within a few hours' travel of Washington.

THE WEATHER.

Synopsis of Observations by the United States Signal Corps for the Past Twenty-Four Hours—Probabilities.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER,
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5, 7:20 P. M.

Synopsis for the past twenty-four hours: Cloudy weather with light rains and a rising barometer prevailed on the Pacific coast. Heavy rains are now reported from the Rocky Mountains. Winds from the North and West now prevail from the Mississippi to the Atlantic.

PROBABILITIES.

It is probable that the barometer will continue low east of the Rocky Mountains, with clearing up on the Gulf, south and middle Atlantic, followed by cloudy weather in the latter States on Saturday. Cloudy weather with light winds are probable for the Ohio Valley, the lakes and Eastern States.

Steinway Sales—Bulletin No. 16.

The following sales of the famous Steinway pianos were made since date of last bulletin:

Josiah Hartzell, Esq., Canton, a Steinway Square; Dr. Matthews, Youngstown, Ohio, a Steinway Square; S. H. Miller, Esq., Mercer, Pa., a Steinway double round; Miss Jennie Cook, a Steinway Square; Mr. Noble, a Steinway upright piano; Mrs. Dr. Dickson, Sewickley, a Steinway Square; D. C. Hultz, Esq., a Steinway Square; Miss Cora Brown Sellers, a Steinway Square Grand; and others.

The Steinway superiority is now universally admitted and hence persons laying claim to musical culture or fashionable standing in society are almost ashamed to own any other than a Steinway Piano. H. Kleber and Bro. are the sole agents here, and a splendid stock of the Steinway may always be found at lowest prices. †

THE Republicans of the Seventeenth ward have nominated William Pearson and Alex. McClintock candidate for Select Council, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Z. Wainwright, Esq.

FROM PITTSBURGH TO CUMBERLAND

A Trip Over the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad—Incidents—Points of Interest—Meyer's Mills.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

CONFLUENCE, PA., May 5, 1871.

In a former communication relative to the opening of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, a want of time prevented any extended notice of the trip over the road, or narrative of incidents connected with it. Your correspondent left the "Smoky City" Tuesday morning at six o'clock and forty-five minutes, on the Baltimore express train, of which Mr. George I. Phillips was conductor. As the train arrives at Connellsville some time ahead of the mail, there were quite a number of persons took passage in preference to waiting for the mail train, which was to leave at six fifty-five, ten minutes after the express, and it being Mr. Phillips's second trip over the road, having brought the Cincinnati express in the previous day, his time was pretty fully occupied in making himself familiar with the road and the several stations, yet he evinced his fitness for the position by uniform courtesy and attention to his passengers. Mr. Phillips is a practical railroad man, having been connected with the Pennsylvania Railroad for a number of years, as conductor of a passenger train, which, however, he resigned to accept the position he now fills, and a better man for the situation would be difficult to find.

Nothing unusual occurred to attract attention between Pittsburgh and Connellsville, except the general expressions of gratification at the completion of the road, and the opening of communication between Pittsburgh and Baltimore. At Connellsville a number of passengers left the train, and several were taken aboard for Cumberland and points along the line, among whom were the Hon. Andrew Stewart, of Fayette county, who for a number of years represented the Twenty-first district in Congress, and A. S. Fuller, Esq., one of the leading lawyers in the State. The route from Connellsville east being new to most if not all the passengers, and the scenery of a most grand and picturesque character, the ride was a very delightful one, and all on board were surprised when the conductor called out "Confluence, twenty minutes for dinner." Under ordinary circumstances, twenty minutes is sufficient time in which to refresh the inner man, but to a "morning paper hound," who, after seeing the first edition of his paper to press, has retired and been aroused from his slumbers in time to make a 6:45 A. M. train, and has passed over a distance of eighty-five miles with pleasant and agreeable traveling companions, it appears to be marvelously short; but we resolved to make the best of it, and started for breakfast. On alighting from the train we were at a loss to know which way to proceed to the eating house, and made inquiry which was responded to by an old friend and acquaintance, Barney Winslow, formerly one of the most popular conductors on the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, who informed us where we would find a hotel. We discovered that Barney had erected a neat and comfortable frame building and opened a hotel which he has christened the "Turkeyfoot House," and on repairing there obtained a dinner entirely satisfactory. In fact we doubt if there is a hotel in or out of the city on either of the lines of railroad east, where a person can obtain a better meal. Barney is a model host, and knows how to "keep a hotel." After dinner we again embarked and proceeded to Cumberland, without the occurrence of any incident worthy of note. Having transacted our business in that thriving town, of which we spoke at some length in a former letter, we started on the return trip with conductor Phillips, at 2:50 A. M., Wednesday, en route to

MEYERS' MILLS.

The trip back was not so pleasant in all respects as that of the day previous, on account of the occurrence of one or two incidents usually met with in railroad travel. Owing to the heavy business on the road the motive power is taxed to its fullest extent, and trains West are necessarily heavy—sometimes heavier than they should be for the motive power, which was the case on the trip to which we refer; and as a consequence on one or two of the heavy grades between Cumberland and the summit the train was too heavy for the engine, and we "stuck" two or three times. In addition to that the sleeping car attached to the train, a new one put on merely to try it over the road, jumped the track one mile west of "Sandpatch," but no serious injury resulted.

After a few vexatious delays we arrived at Dale City, or Meyers' Mills, a thriving town on the line of the road in Somerset county, thirty-seven miles west of Cumberland. The town is an old one, having been known as Meyer Mills for a number of years, but it is only within the past year that there has been any disposition to improve the place. The town proper was incorporated about a year since, under the poetic name of "Dale City," but a large portion of it was for some reason left outside of the corporation lines, so that there are now two distinct towns divided by a street. "Dale City" proper contains a population of about six hundred and fifty, and it is located in one of the most delightful regions of country to be found between Pittsburgh and Cumberland. The mountains both east and west of it subside into small hills, and spread out into a wide valley of fertile soil, the greater part of which is in a high state of cultivation.

The town boasts of four church buildings, Lutheran, German Reform, Baptist and Catholic, and the Methodist Episcopal and Protestant Episcopal have church buildings in course of erection. There is also a fine public school building, a brick structure, in the upper story of which is a fine hall, which is now occupied by a lodge of Good Templars. There are three licensed hotels in the place—the Dale House, kept by Fred. Naugle, the Union Hotel by Peter Wagner, and the Welshous House by W. Welshous. There are five dry goods stores, kept by S. D. Livengood, George Weber, M. D. Miller, C. G. Lint and P. Meyers & Co., all doing a thriving trade. There is one hardware store, of which Mr. George D. Lichty is proprietor; one drug store kept by Dr. D. Beachly; one jewelry store by E. V. Goodchild, all enterprising gentlemen, who are doing a driving trade. There are four confectioneries and groceries, all doing a paying business. The manufactories are a fine steam saw and flouring mill, owned by the heirs of P. Meyers; a planing and saw mill, owned by G. L. Morrill and D. Shultz, both gentlemen of energy and enterprise; two large tanneries owned by P. Meyers and Samuel Miller.

There are four physicians in the place—Drs. Beachly, McKinly, Miller and Meyers, but from the general appearance of the country we are not prepared to say that there is enough sickness in that locality to support so many doctors, unless they charge very exorbitant fees. There are two dentists—Dr. J. C. Yutzy and Dr. W. C. Hicks; one banking house by Messrs. Black & Philson. There are thirty-three carpenters at work in the town, and they have work enough ahead to keep them busy all summer. The town is improving very rapidly. The buildings being erected are generally frame. There are, however, several fine brick buildings in the place, and there will be others erected during the present season. There is a postoffice in the town, Dr. W. C. Hicks being the Postmaster.

The station is under the charge of Capt. C. W. Harrison, formerly Quartermaster in the army, a gentleman of fine business capacity and many high social qualities.

There is a spirit of enterprise manifested by the citizens which will eventually make the town one of the most prosperous villages in the county.

We inadvertently omitted to speak in our notice of the trip to Cumberland, of Mr. Wm. Harrington, the baggage master and express messenger. Mr. H. is a thorough gentleman, and will become one of the most popular men on the road. Your correspondent is under obligations to him for the prompt delivery of papers.

I will leave for the west on the next train, and in my next will speak of some of the advantages claimed for Ursina, a new and flourishing town on the road, and one which has a very promising prospect before it. R.

The Grocery Trade.

Never in the history of Pittsburgh has trade been so brisk with our wholesale grocery merchants as this spring. Immense quantities of goods have been worked off at prices satisfactory to retail dealers, and with fair profit to the larger traders. This state of affairs, creditable alike to our city and to our business men, has been brought about by various causes, chief among which may be named increased facilities for transportation, and greater energy and foresight among merchants. It has now come to be well understood among retail grocery men in the surrounding country that goods can be purchased to better advantage here than in any of the distant markets.

Occupying a place in the front rank of our wholesale grocery establishments will always be found the well known house of J. S. Dilworth & Co., of Nos. 130 and 132 Second avenue. Always among the first in the market with fresh goods, they have established a trade second to none. They are careful buyers, and dealers may rely on finding in their stock the best of all articles in their line. They have in store at present one of the largest stocks of staple groceries ever carried by a Pittsburgh house, embracing all grades of coffees, sugars, molasses, tea, rice, etc., etc. They make a specialty of roasted coffees, and have just put up one of the latest improved roasters, which is far superior to the old style. The coffees selected for roasting are the cleanest and best, and are warranted to give perfect satisfaction to the trade and consumers. A call on Messrs. Dilworth & Co. and a look through their stock will induce any one to purchase.

THE LIPPINCOTT SODA FOUNTAINS have proved in every instance their superiority over the fountains of other manufacturers, and as an evidence of their popularity we would mention that many dealers having other fountains have discarded them at a total loss, and bought a par excellent one of Lippincott's manufacture from the agents of this city, Messrs. McClarren & McKennan. The standing of this house in commercial circles alone should bring the soda fountains they represent into favorable notice as being just what they are said to be, and for reliability, durability and giving general satisfaction they cannot be surpassed. Communications and calls are solicited, corner Market and Third streets.

FREE EXCURSION TRAIN.—It will be noticed, by reference to our advertising columns, that a free excursion train will run to the great auction sale at Leetonia of two hundred lots, on Monday, May the 8th. The train will leave at eight in the morning, and return as soon as the sales are made. It seems as if there were many good opportunities for iron workers and mechanics to secure a home of their own, and where there will always be plenty to do near by, and upon such conditions as soon will prove to them a profitable investment.

THE CROSS CUT RAILROAD.

Additional Suits Brought in the Common Pleas.

George Shiras, Esq., Solicitor for the Connellsville Railroad Company, yesterday filed nine more applications for viewers in the matter of the right of way for the "Monongahela and Allegheny River Branch" of the Connellsville Railroad. The following are the names of the parties whose property it is sought to condemn, the company being unable to agree with the owners as to the price to be paid:

East End Gas Company, Frank Ferree, Lewis Lenkner, J. M. Murtland and John Grazier, Elizabeth Hoeveler, widow of Augustus Hoeveler; Alexander King, John Bauss, Rev. A. J. Rich, and Geo. Finley.

The hearings in the above cases will take place on the 20th inst., the same viewers having been appointed as in the cases already published, namely: Messrs. George R. White, John Mackin, Geo. Wilson, James Benny, Jr., and John Fleming.

Similar applications have yet to be made in a number of other cases.

Bloomfield Ores.

The best and purest iron ores are required for the manufacture of ordnance. During the late civil war the United States Government tested the ores of various localities with the view of obtaining the best quality. We have before us a report of General T. J. Rodman, U. S. Army, to General A. B. Dyer, Chief of Ordnance, under date of February 13, 1862, which pronounces the ores found on the Bloomfield Furnace property, located in the southern part of Blair and the adjoining territory in Bedford county, as "not likely to be surpassed by any untried variety," and which recommends the purchase by the government of the ore banks and smelting furnace on that property. The report goes on to say that the ores are brown hematite, and are believed to be adequate to supply the wants of the government for hundreds of years. About 20,000 acres of land, estimated to yield 12,000 cords of wood, which would smelt 2,000 tons of iron per annum, constitute the surface area of this property. A railroad known as the "Morrison's Cove Railroad," is now in process of construction from Hollidaysburg to Bloomfield and will soon be completed. At the time General Rodman made his report this property could have been purchased for $250,000, but the construction of the Morrison's Cove Railroad will make it worth millions. The furnace at Bloomfield has been idle for some years, but the completion of the road will revive it, and doubtless additional furnaces will soon be constructed at that point. Under the management of the enterprising agent of the proprietors of Bloomfield, Colonel J. W. Duncan, of Pittsburgh, the excellent ores of the locality will now be thoroughly developed.—Harrisburg Patriot.

THE OPERA HAT HOUSE OF J. D. RAMALEY, No. 64 FIFTH AVENUE.—This house certainly takes the lead in introducing new styles of hats, caps, shirts, collars, cravats, scarfs and general furnishing goods for men's wear into market. Every variety and style out can be found, and it is safe to say that many a new design has been originated by Mr. Ramaley and been agreeably accepted as a style. The invitation extended by this house is general, to call in and take a look. There are gentlemen salesmen (and they are gentlemen in every sense of the word) to show goods, and if the fancy is suited, we know a purchase will be made, if not you will be treated with equal urbanity. Call at 64 and see if we haven't stated a fact.

IT will interest many of our older citizens to know that a Pittsburgher headed the jury which brought in a verdict of "guilty" against Mrs. Laura D. Fair, the San Francisco murderess. B. F. Sterrett was foreman of the jury. He was a printer by trade, and foreman of the Daily Advocate in this city. When the excitement over gold discoveries in California first broke out, Mr. Sterrett emigrated thither, in company with the late J. Heron Foster and others.

West End Avenue.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

This bill has passed the Senate, but it has not passed the House. The items in the morning and evening papers asserting that the bill had passed both Houses and was ready for the signature of the Governor, are simply in pursuance of the spirit of the whole course of the two or three who are trying to force this bill through. These squibs are to disconcert the tax-payers; to throw them off their guard, and it certainly does not seem to be the way to meet the opposition. Any bill that is right and just needs no attempt at lying, even to have it meet the approval of the people and their representatives.

That this bill would pass the Senate was a foregone conclusion. It would have passed, sent as it was by the parties who had it in charge, if it had provided for anything short of hanging one of our Senators. That it will pass the House is not so certain. Some of its members already know that the debt of the boroughs through which this avenue is to pass, is extremely oppressive, so much so that a bill was sent to Harrisburg this winter to repeal the act authorizing them.

Neither law or common sense lees at the bottom of such a bill. If passed, the Court would enjoin proceedings and during the litigation one-half the community is engaged in one vast lawsuit against the other half.

Is it not better, fairer, more reasonable, instead of forcing matters of this kind on the people, to wait till most of them feel the want of such a paved road?

The trains on the Fort Wayne Railroad are run with remarkable promptness and regularity; are attended by most careful and competent officers, and every facility is afforded by it in the transmission of passengers.

It is not a case of no road: it is the case of a sporting road, and this too at the expense of the small lot owner, who, if he cannot pay at once, a lien will be filed and costs and attorney's commissions of five per cent. will be added.

No reasonable man ought to ask his Representative to vote for such a bill. S.

BELLEVUE, May 5, 1871.

C. O. D.

It is now evident to our friend Mr. Nutting that the motto he has adopted in his clothing business is proving a success. His store on Sixth street contains one of the largest stocks of ready made clothing in the market, and consists of Scotch chevisits, Derby walking suits, Jerome jackets and men's and boys' suits at prices that cannot be competed with. This large stock of really excellent manufactured goods are made especially for the trade of this city, in New York, under the immediate supervision of Mr. Nutting. The house design their own styles, and as evidence of good taste displayed it will only be necessary to drop into his store and look at the goods manufactured. Mr. E. M. Nutting represents Mr. N. while in New York, and a more polite and genteel gentleman is seldom to be met with in the clothing business. His management and that of his assistants has greatly aided in making this a popolar clothing house. Notice the advertisement in another column, and as you are passing down the street drop in and take a look.

Get the Best.

Purchasers in the country, who are unable to visit the manufactory themselves, should be careful, in ordering crackers from their grocer, to specify Marvin & Co.'s manufacture. Those who desire a superior article of crackers, cakes, or biscuit, should remember to send for Marvin & Co.'s, if they cannot supply themselves personally at the bakery, Nos. 91 and 93 Liberty street. IT is a fact speedily noticed by observing travelers that the further South we go the less industrious are the inhabitants, and in the same ratio the consumption of Pier, Dannals & Co.'s cream ale decreases. Energy and cream ale march side by side. †

The Daily Commercial.

SATURDAY, MAY 6, 1871.

A WASHINGTON report says that Mr. MORTON will probably have charge of the treaty in the Senate. Why not Senator CAMERON? He was substituted for Mr. SUMNER as Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, in order that the subject might be in his hands, and the suggestion as to Mr. MORTON is plainly an indignity on him. We don't believe the report, for Gen. CAMERON is the last man to submit to anything of the kind.

THE proclamation of the President with regard to the Ku-Klux bill, ought to receive the approbation of the entire country without respect to political bias. His admitted reluctance to call into service any of the extraordinary powers which it confers upon him, ought to satisfy the law abiding Democrats of the South that he has no intention of wielding them in the interest either of party ascendancy or personal ambition; while the guarantee which his firmness of character gives that he will thoroughly keep his promise of bringing those powers into requisition, should the necessity arise, ought to convince them that it is their interest as well as their duty to stamp out these pestilent combinations at once. Let the "good and true men" to whom General SHERMAN recently made reference, forthwith make themselves heard and felt. "Let us have peace."

WE have several times, as new developments have occured, alluded to the increasing probability that the Erie litigation in the United States Court at New York would result in the overthrow of the iniquitous schemes of the managers of that corporation. It will be recollected that JAY GOULD persistently refused to produce the books which showed to whom the theft and fraudulent transfers of the English shares were made, although repeatedly ordered by the court to do so. Judge BLATCHFORD ordered his arrest and detention without the privilege of bail, until the books were forthcoming. This has had the effect of bringing them to light. It was charged against WARREN HASTINGS that in his administration "fraud was the cashier, confusion the accountant, and concealment the reporter." FISK and GOULD would appear to conduct their operations after the same method.

IT is extremely doubtful whether Justice REED will resume his seat on the bench of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Advanced in years and broken in health, his resignation is not an improbable event, and it has been suggested that if a vacancy is to occur in this way the resignation should be decided upon early enough to permit the retiring Judge's successor to be chosen at the next election. It is commonly understood that the Judges are overworked—a condition of things which will not be improved by Judge REED's illness. We believe that it is generally thought that even should he not resign, his return to the bench is hardly to be expected. He is understood to possess a liberal competence, so that the emoluments of the office are not likely to constitute an important consideration in the case. We believe that the other Judges would not be surprised should Judge REED resign at an early day.

THIS is the kind of talk which keeps alive the old bitter rancours and enmities of the war. If every reconstructed State would pass a law providing the penalty of a ducking for these termagant scolds every time they trespassed upon the public quiet, it would have a most beneficial effect, and largely obviate the necessity of enforcing the Ku-Klux bill or sending Congressional committees into the Southern States. The extract is from a late speech of a Virginia State Senator, made at the reception in Richmond of GARRETT DAVIS:

> "For weary years we have been accustomed to speak in bated breath, and he rejoiced that the time has now come when we may speak out our true sentiments. He hailed in this the first streaks of the day-dawn to come. He alluded to his opposition to sending the Legislative Committee to Philadelphia, and said that when the measure was finally carried he wanted the committee to be composed of three ex-Governors of this ancient Commonwealth—Wise, Letcher and Smith—who should go to 'Independence Hall,' hold up their fettered hands, shake their manacles in the faces of the grand Committee of Arrangements, and tell them what kind of 'independence' Virginia has now to be thankful for."

The legislative committee to which he alludes was received in Philadelphia with the utmost courtesy, and treated with the utmost consideration and hospitality. The people of the North are sick of this sort of stuff, whether upon one side or the other. We want peace, order, tranquility, the restoration of material prosperity, progress in trade, commerce, art, science, culture. But those wretched exhumations of dead antagonisms taint the whole air, and render healthy nationality impossible. Let good men of all parties unite in burying them out of sight.

CLERICAL SCANDALS.

Scandalous cases, in which clergymen are concerned, are becoming almost frightfully common. This form of statement, may, however, be objectionable as conveying an erroneous impression, as it may be that, in relation to the general increase of population and to the greater number of preachers of various denominations in the country, cases of the kind referred to are not more common now than they were formerly. As a class, we do not believe that the ministerial profession among the old historical sects have at all deteriorated in morality. On the contrary, with the advancement of civilization in the older States a higher standard of decorum at least, in clerical morals as well as manners, has been set up, and a decent measure of conformity with the popular notions on the subject is exacted more rigorously than of old. If cases of clerical scandal are, all things considered, more frequent now than formerly, the fact may be traceable to the higher demands in the form of purity and propriety of conduct at present made upon the profession. Let it be understood that we refer to the clerical profession properly so called; to the men who have been regularly or becomingly trained for specific duties and admitted to their exercise, in accordance with the established and known rules of a recognized Christian denomination. For the moral or immoral vagaries of interlopers who call themselves Reverends, and take upon themselves the care of souls, no person is responsible except the simple people who encourage their presumption by listening to their harangues. It is painful to reflect how frequently the clerical body suffers in the popular estimation through the adventures of these intruders; quite as unjustly, however, as the legal body suffers through the irregular practices of shysters, or the medical body through the doings of charlatans.

But besides the reason given above for the at least apparent multiplication of clerical scandals, other reasons may be assigned. By the diffusion of education, and by the advance and vitalization of the democratic sentiment or principle in the country, the old distance between pastor and people has been reduced to a minimum. The traditions touching the subject, sacred to our grandfathers, and not indifferent to our fathers, have completely died out, giving place to a realism that divests the minister of all attributes of which he cannot prove the possession. Though we may not suppose that orthodox Protestants ever utterly forgot that they had their evangelical "treasure in earthen vessels," yet some generations ago, we believe, the material was commonly assumed to be porcelain at any rate; to regard it as, on an average, mere potter's clay was reserved for the present. How all this applies to the subject of clerical scandals in more ways than one is so obvious as hardly to need elucidation. Even as the clergyman goes about in the performance of his ordinary duties he is watched by a multitude of eyes sharp to see somewhat amiss. But his professional position often makes it necessary for him, without explanation, to do things, which, in the absence of explanation, may easily be misconstrued. If in earnest about his work, it is hardly possible for him to avoid giving offense and thus making it the evil interest of people to turn if possible his own acts into his punishment. Then, there is no want of charity in saying that in every community there are many persons wholly intolerant of the inevitable superiority involved in the right of standing in a pulpit and talking while others listen in silence. It is a form of aristocracy offensive to the truly democratic or republican mind. Other public men pay the penalty of their prominence by having stories more or less discreditable circulated concerning them. To the baser portion of the public such scandals prove that these prominent men are not such fine fellows after all. The baser portion of the public are thus propitiated and the prominent men are not much the worse, as people who really know them do not believe the scandals. Clergymen may not act with similar coolness or indifference under similar inflictions. To them such darts flung by the feeblest or the dirtiest hand may be fatal, not only ruining their good name, but depriving their families of bread. They must either at once lay aside the practice of the profession for which they have been educated and which may be their delight, or they must successfully repel the calumnies with which they have been assailed.

When some overt act happens to be the form of offense laid to his charge it may ordinarily be no difficult matter for the clergyman slandered to establish his innocence in the judgment of fair-minded, sensible people. But candid people of sound judgment are not the only persons whom it is important for the clergyman to convince that he has been wronged. If possible, for the sake of his own usefulness and for the removal of a stumbling-block, he must try to make his innocence manifest to the silly, the ignorant, even the malignant. For this reason it seems peculiarly unfortunate that, in the trial of cases of the kind to which we refer, so much importance is attached to the so-called rules of evidence by which the procedure of courts of justice is regulated. A purely technical or "artificial system framed to meet the necessity of a trial by jury," these rules are excellent in their place. Under these rules, whole classes of facts are excluded lest the practice of admitting them, once become a precedent, should be injurious to society. Others are excluded in mercy to the accused. Still others are excluded because a jury is assumed to be incapable of judging them. The result is a system of evidence so favorable to the accused that both in England and in this country notorious culprits constantly escape punishment for lack of proof. All this has often been shown without destroying popular confidence in the great humane economy of which these rules form a part. But a clergyman, conscious of innocence, on trial before an ecclesiastical court, if he knew his own true interest, would certainly prefer the continental to the English or American method of getting at the truth of a case. In fact the former is the method appropriate to ecclesiastical courts which in this country they are often driven to abandon by the clamors of the press, or at the instigation of lawyers. In this course the press and the lawyers are right if the object of a trial is to clear the accused. But if the object of such a trial is to establish his innocence beyond the reach of cavil or suspicion, every sort of testimony in the remotest degree relevant to the subject, will be admitted without reference to the authority of STARKEY or any other technical formalist. This is the sort of investigation which a minister falsely charged with offense ought to desire, as it is the only sort of trial which leaves no room for the allegation that the whole truth was not brought out, an allegation certain to revive the original scandal with all its evil consequences.

NO MAN can serve two masters. JOHN RUSKIN is probably the most profound and brilliant art critic in the world, but when he ventures upon the science of politics, or begins to talk about the United States, he seems instantly to lose his head. He is now engaged in writing a series of familiar letters to the laboring classes of England, in which he tells them all about the Norse demigods, the Greek heroes, the spiritual significance of symbols and mythologies, and about THESEUS, "who invented vegetable soup," as if he thought the mere knowledge of these recondite matters was of itself sufficient to solve the whole solemn British problem, and fill out the cheeks of the starved with fatness. He has also expressed his opinion that it would be better that the whole people of Europe should perish than that they should become tainted with American ideas. His panacea for all the evils which afflict humanity is to reproduce the manners and customs of the mediæval ages. It is pitiful to see a great mind thus wasting itself in absurd notions. If he really desires to restore the spirit of reverence to the poor people of his country, let him exert himself to make its wealthy classes worthy of reverence. But this is the mistake which all men wedded to a phantasy make. RUSKIN still clings to the forms of old, although the soul which once vitalized them has long since died out of existence. His attempt to alleviate the miseries of England's poor by fine twaddle on art is an adding of insult to injury. It is bread that they need, not pre-RAPHAELITE disquisitions. Food, not talk.

SOMETIME ago a bill was framed in the House requiring the Supreme Court of the State to review the law and evidence in the case of DR. PAUL SCHOEPPE. The committee to whom it was referred has reported upon it adversely. This leaves the case exactly where it stood after the prisoner had been found guilty and sentence pronounced upon him, requiring only the appointment of the day of execution and the signature of the Governor to his death-warrant to inflict upon him the extreme penalty of the law. But it is not probable that he will be executed during Governor GEARY's term of office. It is now some two years since the alleged murder was committed, while every proceeding which, since the trial, has been had with referrence to the case, has only served to deepen the uncertainty whether Miss STEINECKE was really murdered at all. The disinclination of the Governor to hang him is as natural as his refusal to pardon him is, under the complicated aspects of the case, proper. In the absence of any new developments, (and investigation appears to have exhausted itself upon the subject) this disinclination will naturally increase with time, while it is quite certain that his successor in office will not be likely to assume a responsibility which he would not undertake. It is therefore safe to assume that Dr. SCHOEPPE will not be hung at all. Neither, unless the fact of his innocence is established beyond question, does it seem desirable that he should be pardoned. He may neither deserve to be hanged nor pardoned, but as the law now stands the hands of the Governor are tied, so far as any middle course of action is concerned. By hanging him he might possibly execute an innocent man, and by pardoning him he might possibly liberate a guilty one—both errors, to be avoided. It seems proper, therefore, that the Governor should be vested with discretionary powers to cover this and similar cases; and we suggest to the Legislature the passage, before adjournment, of a bill conferring upon the Executive authority to commute death sentences to imprisonment; whether for life, or for a term of years not below a specified number, to be determined by himself upon his knowledge of all the facts and circumstances.

THE recently made compulsory education law of Michigan provides that every parent, guardian or other person in the State, having control and charge of children between the ages of eight and fourteen years, shall be required to send them to a public school for a period of at least twelve weeks in each school year, at least six weeks of which shall be consecutive, unless they are excused from such attendance by the board of the school district in which the parents or guardians reside, upon its being shown to their satisfaction that the child's bodily or mental condition has been such as to prevent his attendance at school or application to study for the period required, or that they are taught in a private school, or at home, in such branches as are usually taught in primary schools, or have already acquired the ordinary branches of learning taught in the public school. In cases where no public school is taught for three months during the year, within two miles of the residence of any person, such person will not be amenable to this provision, and in case the parent or guardian fails to comply with this law, he is made liable to a fine of not less than five, nor more than ten dollars for the first offence, which is doubled for every subsequent offense.

THIS is the nineteenth century. Cotton Mather has been dead these many years, and the old witch-elm on Boston Common is in such a decayed condition that it has to be propped up with supports upon every side. Only the granite of Plymouth Rock seems as firm and fixed as ever. We simply mention these facts because the degree to which, in a number of quarters, the odium theologicum appears to prevail, induces us to fear that some people may have forgotten them. What is the difference between sympathizing with Dr. Doellinger, of Bavaria, and excommunicating a non-conformist in Chicago, and how are they to be reconciled with each other?

THE Press expresses regret that there is at the end of its fiscal year a balance against the Philadelphia and Southern Mail Steamship Company, notwithstanding the fact that the business of the year shows considerable increase. Extraordinary circumstances, it is said, such as the repairing of steamships and the leasing of others to take their places, have combined to produce this result. With the establishment of foreign service, allowing an outlet for return freights, the Press thinks it fair to presume "that in a few years the energetic enterprise of its stockholders will be rewarded with much pecuniary profit."

THE Governor of New York has approved an act authorizing the consolidation of the Brooklyn gas companies. They are authorized to supply gas at a price not exceeding $2 25 per thousand feet. The present price charged by the old companies is $3 50 per thousand.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

The oldest men in the region of Richmond, Vermont, say they never recollect of so early a spring before. At this time young cattle, sheep and colts are supplied with abundance of grass in the pastures, and many dairymen think of turning their cows out to pasture. Soon new grass butter will be in the market.

Rhode Islanders visiting the Capitol are disgusted to find that the stonecutter who carved the name on the bottom of the statue of Gen. Greene, in the old hall of Representatives, has spelled it without the final E. On being asked why he omitted this letter, he replied that G-r-e-e-n spelled Green, and nothing else, and he didn't see the use of more than two vowels in that word. Besides, said he, G-r-e-e-n-e spells nothing but Greeny, and the man's name was Green.

The New Jersey and Delaware strawberry fields are said never to have held out more encouraging prospects of a superabundant yield than at present. Hundreds upon hundreds of acres are now brilliant with blossoms, and the weather is most favorable for the development of the fruit which will refresh eyes and palates in the course of a sunny fortnight or three weeks.

At the recent meeting of the Philadelphia Agricultural Society General Pleasanton read an essay, in which he examined the chemical and physical effects of different colors of the rainbow. A large number of chemical phenomena, which result from the action of different colors, were quoted, and the essayist sought to prove that blue-tinted glass has a specific effect in promoting the growth of animal and vegetable life.

The annual meeting of the Army of the Potomac, to be held at Boston on the 13th, will be presided over by Major General Meade, and Rev. Phillips Brooks will make the introductory prayer. Governor Fairchild, in the capacity of ex-Major General, pronounces the oration, and Bret Harte furnishes the poetry. Such a meeting cannot fail of distinguished success.

A colored woman, named Maria Griffin, now of Philadelphia, but formerly of Virginia, has, with her children, brought suit in the United States Court at Richmond to recover property in James City county, now valued, it is stated, at $200,000. The defendants are a well-known Virginian family. The Griffins claim under the alleged will of a citizen of James City county, who died in 1808.

A Mr. Thompson, living near the town of Wells, Minnesota, is doing a big thing in the farming line this season. His farm has 1,200 acres of wheat, 1,250 of flax, 500 of oats and 400 of corn. About 4,000 acres all told are under cultivation. He has put out 50,000 cuttings, cottonwood and white willow, and built eighteen tons of fence, consuming 18,000 pounds of wire and 20,000 posts. He now owns twenty brick farm houses, twenty stables, 35 by 60, and other improvements. He wants to open twenty more farms this summer, putting up the necessary buildings, &c.

A professor in one of our theological seminaries relates this incident: Being in Germany, with a red covered book in his hand, a German, supposing the book to be "Murray," asked in English if he was an Englishman. The professor replied in German that he was not. The conversation presently turned upon an object of architectural beauty near at hand, in the course of which the professor incidentally raised the question of its cost. "Sir," exclaimed the German instantly, "you are an American!" "How do you know that?" rejoined the professor. "Sir," continued the German, striking an attitude and assuming a tone of great solemnity, "upon the resurrection morn, when we stand before the great white throne, the first question of every American in the whole assembly will be, 'How much did that throne cost?'"

The first of the new palace street cars has made its appearance in New York. The seats, thirty in number, are comfortably cushioned, the fan lights are of blue, white and purple, and the painting executed in the very first style of workmanship. Elegant curtains screen the passengers from the sun, but can be drawn aside at pleasure.

Judge Bedford created a sensation in his Court, at New York, a day or two since, by stating that he had very strong grounds for believing that very many of the car conductors of the city were in league with thieves and rowdies. The remark was made during the examination of a case of pocket-picking.

Investigation, it is said, demonstrates that inferior sponges are epidemic disseminators. A New York paper says: "Beware of light sponges, and if an adjunct to the bath-tub is desired, by all means go to a druggist and purchase a dark sponge, which will prove innocuous and a certain aid. The seeds of disease are undoubtedly conveyed within the sponges bought on the street; and examination reveals that the cleansing process has been only partial. Whether these dangerous articles are procured by unprincipled men through the connivance of hospital managers or attaches we do not know; but certain it is that several institutions in New York and at Philadelphia, have the reputation of disposing of huge quantities."

The fact is stated, on the authority of the officers of the Secret Service Division of the Treasury Department, that fifty per cent. of the spurious currency at present in circulation, and most of that which has already fallen into the hands of the detectives, has been engraved and manufactured in Pennsylvania. Thither the most notorious counterfeiters betake themselves when New York and other cities, in which the detectives actively do their duty, become too hot for them. It has been the object of Col. Whitely, Chief of the Secret Service Bureau, to break up these gangs, if possible, and to thoroughly scour the State of Pennsylvania, and rid it, once and forever, of the incubus of the counterfeiters. Up to the present he has only partially succeeded, and some of the most dangerous of these criminal coteries still carry on their nefarious trade to a large extent.

A new secret political society has been established in New York city within a few months. Its name is "The Bait." The members are chiefly of the artisan and laboring classes, and it is said already number 50,000 in the State of New York.

A marriage ceremony at Atlanta, Georgia, last Sunday, was the culmination of a romance. Twenty-three years ago, amid the quiet of her Fatherland home, Herr Christian Winkler sought and won Fraulein Marie Nicolai. Shortly after he left for America and became a soldier in the late war, passing through many battles with honor, and attaining the dignified position of sergeant. It appears that all the while an active correspondence had been carried on between the separated lovers until last Sunday, when Fraulein arrived in the above city, and was united in marriage to the man who had remained true to the vows made twenty-three years ago.

The "Oldest Inhabitants' Association" of Washington city have been holding a meeting to consider the expediency of celebrating the fourth of July as an association. Some opposed any celebration, others favored a dinner party, and still others a picnic and dance on that day. A member presented a lottery ticket, issued in 1806, to aid in the construction of a cathedral, in the time of the Very Rev. John Carroll, the first Catholic Bishop of Baltimore and the first in the United States. Capt. Chancey Bestor was appointed to prepare a paper upon "Washington in 1812," to be read at the next meeting. It will describe the city as it appeared at that time, and give interesting incidents of the war then being waged against England.

A writer in a Savannah paper earnestly opposes foreign immigration, on the ground that "instead of Americans Americanizing foreigners, foreigners are foreignizing Americans." The writer wants the lands kept by the present Georgians for their children, and piteously asks, "Where are our children to go if we give away or sell our lands?"

THERE comes a cry from California somewhat similar to that which arose from Joppa a good many hundreds of years ago. "Come over and help us," was the burden of that entreaty. "Come on and marry us," is the soul of this refrain. California has "siller to spare" enow, but except in her cities, no women. Hence the plaintive appeal which arises from her forlorn money diggers. For these poor fellows who grow dyspeptic on the results of their own cooking, and become dirtier and dirtier the oftener they wash, have felt the truth of Solomon's declaration that the price of a good wife was above rubies; while, knowing as they do that rubies are much more valuable than gold, they fancy that the dicker will be certain to inure to their advantage in many ways—as for instance in the mending of their manners and their garments. Therefore the cry for women; not city misses, with die-away, lack-a-daisical airs, but stout, hearty, honest girls, who can cook and wash and fear nothing. It is said that girls of this class, who are passably skillful in household work, can obtain situations within forty-eight hours after their arrival, at wages ranging from twenty to forty dollars a month, and if they are only moderately good looking they may calculate with certainty on securing well-to-do husbands within a year or two at the furthest. By way of inducement reference is made to the cargo of young girls invoiced from New England to Washington Territory in 1864, nearly all of whom have since assumed matrimonial relations. Here is a fine opening for nice young women of industrious habits and worthy character; and we really do not consider it any less modest for them to go to California with the avowed purpose of procuring husbands than to set their caps at young men here. Let match-making mammas take notice. Send your daughters to California, that its men may become humanized through being womanized.

THE character of a man's temper depends very largely upon the condition of his liver, which in turn depends greatly upon his food. Now we know that the "High Joints" are good livers; therefore they have good livers, and hence are as amiable and affectionate as a cage of turtle doves. Every member of the Commission appears to be in love with every other member. Especially, it is said, are our own Commissioners pleased with the men who represent Great Britain. Says a correspondent:

> "Instead of meeting aristocrats, they claim to have found as good Democrats as they themselves are, and remark the utter lack of ostentation, flummery, flunkeyism and the follies that are supposed to be incident to men reared under aristocratic and monarchical institutions. Especially do they speak in these and more complimentary terms of Earl de Grey, who is highly favorable to all American institutions and to the American people, who, they say, is a very able, but very plain man, with no nonsense about him. Even the Tory, Sir Stafford Northcote, is spoken of as a man surprisingly imbued with liberal ideas. Professor Montague Bernard and Sir Edward Thornton are both mentioned favorably, and the former's very extensive knowledge of international law is of great value to his colleagues. Sir Edward Thornton and Sir John A. Macdonald, are so nearly Americans and so well known that to speak of them as they are spoken of here would be only to repeat a world-wide knowledge of their abilities and popularity. The good natured Lord Tenterden, while thoroughly English in look, gait and speech, has become American in feeling, and it is prophesied he will become a thorough democrat before he leaves us."

This is very nice indeed, and shows by what fine gradations a Pickwick Club mellows into a mutual admiration society. But we hope they will digest the matters which they were assembled to consider as thoroughly as they have done in the case of their dinners. Because, if nothing definite comes of the conference, the American people will hardly stomach it.

THE troubles in St. Clement's Episcopal Church, Philadelphia, seem to be fast augmenting. The vestrymen met on the 3d, and passed resolutions formally dismissing the rector, Rev. H. G. Batterson, and his assistant, Rev. W. H. N. Stewart, whereupon application was made to the Court of Common Pleas for a special injunction restraining the vestry in their action, on the ground that the defendants are not the legal vestrymen of St. Clements, and that the attempted dissolution of the connection between the congregation and the rector and his assistant is directly in opposition to the wishes of the plaintiffs and a majority of the congregation. The Court issued a special injunction, and the matter will come up for a hearing at a future day.

PERSONAL.

It is reported that the Countess de Montijo, Eugenie's mother, has been treated very coolly at Madrid by the Spanish aristocracy since the downfall of the second empire.

Prince Alfred has been making himself very popular in New Zealand, even leading the orchestra on the violin at two concerts in aid of charities.

When in Savannah, Nilsson, at the request of leading citizens, sang, for the first time in her life, "The Conquered Banner," a local paper says there was not a person in the audience, cultivated or uncultivated, whose heart did not thrill to the wail with which she told the story of the past, and echoed the cry of a "people whose hopes are dead."

The Rev. W. A. McCorkle, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Detroit, has lately received a call from the Third Presbyterian Church of Boston, which he has concluded to accept. He is to receive a salary of $5,000 per annum.

Mrs. Blaine, the accomplished wife of the Speaker, had a difficulty with Mrs. Stockton, the charming better-half of the Senator, about a cook. Meeting at a dinner table with only the Hon. Fernando Wood between them, Mrs. Stockton, leaning forward, said, "I am sorry, Mrs. Blaine, that we have anything disagreeable between us." The Hon. Fernando was considerably embarrassed, not having heard the interesting story of the cook.

An American woman, Dr. Mary Safford, is creating a sensation in Vienna. She recently lectured in that city before the Women's Industrial Society, and the description of her activity as physician during the American war caused much interest.

THE ignorance which exists among educated men abroad concerning the United States, its geography, institutions, customs and literature, is astounding. The last number of the British Quarterly Review has an essay on the American Press, in which, among many other errors of fact and inference, it says:

> The Washington National Era, like the National Intelligencer of the same capital, has a high position as a literary and political journal. It was through its columns that Mrs. Stowe first gave to the world her "Uncle Tom's Cabin," just as Judge Haliburton first published "Sam Slick, the Clockmaker," in the pages of a Nova Scotian weekly newspaper.

The first of these journals ceased to exist more than ten years ago, while the latter has been dead between three and four years. Quite recently, too, a member of the Italian Parliament having cited the United States as an example of the benefits of religious freedom, one of the foremost personages of that body disputed the point, declaring that while all citizens were free to choose the religion which best suited them, they were compelled by law, after choice, to share in the expenses of everything which contributed to the growth of the denomination. "In other countries," he added, "being an atheist excludes one from all public offices. I refer to Mississippi." This is equalled by the French map of the United States which locates Washington on Lake Erie, places New York on the Atlantic coast in the vicinity of Richmond, and puts Chicago west of the Mississippi river. Not long ago a distinguished London medical lecturer inquired of an American whether St. Louis were not in Cincinnati. This ignorance would be ludicrous were it not painful. Our school boys and girls could shame them.

IN view of the approaching Independence Centennial, the Philadelphia Ledger notes a suggestion to restore Independence Hall as nearly as practicable to its condition and appearance in 1776. The Ledger says: "This should be done. The hall as it is now fails to satisfy the patriotic anticipations of many who regard it with the highest veneration. It is a great mistake to make it a curiosity shop. Some of the objects there now are possibly as fitting as any other decorations could be; but others are sadly out of place and detract from its dignity. Every person of good taste, and especially every one who cherishes the memory of the immortal event of which the old hall was the scene, should wish to have the restoration made, with the tables of the President and Secretary, and a fac-simile chair for each one of the illustrious fifty-six as perfectly as they can be reproduced, and all in place as they were in actual use."

Quit Drugging.

This is now admitted by the medical profession as a fundamental principle of healing science. It is wisely provided by the human economy that whenever anything is wrong in the physical system the natural forces of the body are brought to bear to expel the disease. The great aim, therefore, is to strengthen the natural powers. This has been kept in view by the skillful compounders of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which operates to give fresh vitality to all the organs of the body. The effect of this medicine upon the stomach, the liver and the kidneys, is prompt and decisive. The patient, who is wise enough to quit drugging and try the bitters, soon feels as if he had taken a new lease of life, and as he continues the use of the article, he is overjoyed to find the streams of health coursing through his frame. It is prepared with great care, and its component parts are entirely vegetable. It is free from the objections so often urged against preparations of the kind. As a medicinal agent it has no equal, while its pleasing favor and healthful effects have made it a general favorite. It is free from all properties calculated to impair the system, and its operations are at once mild, soothing and efficient. All who have used Hostetter's Stomach Bitters attest its virtues and commend it.

Even those who are in the enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonics as preventatives of disease. We are never too well armed against the assaults of "the ills that flesh is heir to." In health or sickness this tonic cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and elasticity to the system.

PROPOSALS.

TO IRON MANUFACTURERS.
Proposals for the Iron Work of a Second Order Light House to be erected on Bolivar Point, Texas, entrance to Galveston Bay.
TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE LIGHT HOUSE BOARD,
Washington, May 1, 1871.
Sealed Proposals will be received at this office until 1 o'clock of FRIDAY, the 19th day of May, 1871, from iron manufacturers only, for furnishing the materials and labor of all kinds necessary to construct a Second Order Iron Light House for Bolivar Point, Texas, in accordance with the accompanying Specifications and Drawings.
The same to be delivered, at the expense of the contractor, on board of a sea going vessel or vessels, at any Atlantic or Gulf port nearest to the manufacturer's workshops, and accessible to such vessels.
The Brick Work, the Glass for the Lantern, the Lens, the Lamps and Furniture belonging thereto, will be provided by the Light House Board, and their cost is not to be included in the amount of the bid.
The bid should state the sum for which the entire work, as shown on the Drawings, will be completed, fully erected at the work shops, and then taken down after acceptance, and delivered as aforesaid, and should also state the day and date on which it shall be completed and delivered, under forfeit, as specified in the "Form of Bid."
The work will be carried on under the personal supervision of an Agent of the Board, and all facilities must be afforded him for inspecting the material and workmanship. Such part of either as are not in accordance with the Drawings and Specifications must, in case of rejection, be made good at the expense of the contractor.
The Board reserves the right to reject any proposal for any reasons it may deem sufficient.

FLORAL OIL.

A OIL L

FOR the TOILET.
Notwithstanding the fact that mixtures of every description purporting to be peculiarly adapted to the Hair, are to be found in almost every Drug Store and Grocery in the country, the want of an agreeable, cleanly, and healthful dressing for the Hair is evident. Nearly all the preparations in use are made from animal oils, and as a consequence they dry rapidly, are more or less gummy, and in time become rancid to offensiveness. This is especially true of the "Pomades" and "Washes" under fancy names, made from the rankest and filthiest of all the Animal Oils. Experience proves that Vegetable Oils meet every requirement for a Dressing for the Hair. They retain moisture for a greater length of time than Animal Oils. They are not injurious, and when used judiciously, produce beneficial results. THE FLORAL OIL, prepared by Messrs. ABEL & CO., from Pure Vegetable Oil, possesses these properties in an eminent degree. It is at once one of the cheapest, most cleanly, healthful, and agreeable preparations, perfumed with rare odors, ever presented to the public. It will be found especially agreeable as an aid in dressing the hair of Children and Ladies. Promotes the growth of the Hair and imparts to it a rich lustre. No Toilet complete without it.
FLORAL OIL, PREPARED ONLY BY CHARLES ABEL & CO., PERFUMERS.
PREPARED ONLY BY CHARLES ABEL & CO., Perfumers, Manufacturers of PRIZE MEDAL VEGETABLE HAIR OILS, No. 172 WYLIE AVENUE, PITTSBURGH, PA. Druggists and Dealers, in consulting their own interests and those of their patrons, should send in their orders for FLORAL OIL, Manufactured from Pure Vegetable Oils. Warranted to give satisfaction. FINANCE AND TRADE

FRIDAY EVENING, May 5, 1871.

The New York Times, in noticing the efforts of leading bankers of that city, to induce holders of government bonds to change them for the bonds of comparatively doubtful security, says: Advantage is taken by some of our bankers engaged in placing railway bonds, of the probability that the United States 5-20s may be called in for redemption at no distant day, to advise the holders to convert this security into their own. They promise the same or a higher rate of interest in gold at a much lower price. They urge the 5-20 holders to make certain of the difference at once, which it is said they can do without incurring, by the change, the perfect security of the investment. We doubt the wisdom or prudence of such counsel. It may be given in all good faith, but assuredly it is advice not proper to be taken by that class of quiet, well-to-do people who are accustomed to hold and to prefer the public funds of the United States as an unfailing source of steady income, as a fixing security in the confidence of the whole world, and as an investment to which they subscribed, perhaps in the darkest hours of the nation's trial, or at the close of the great war, and which has been growing stronger and in higher appreciation ever since. We do not propose to institute comparisons, where in one sense there can be none; but we make free to say that this class of holders, even if their 5-20s should be refunded into 5 per cents, the Government security had best not be parted with. The very fact that the Government can borrow of others at a lower rate is significant of the superior safety of its bonds, and it would scarcely be possible to make these prudent people feel as comfortable or secure with any other bonds, however bright the prospect may be made to look for prompt payment of interest through a period of twenty or thirty years. We could instance, from our long experience as a reporter in Wall street, many painful cases of disappointment, some of them of recent occurrence, where large promises and great expectations, based in good part on distinguished names in negotiation, and equally distinguished names in management, have turned to ashes after a few years of fat dividends, by some freak of fortune, or sudden turn of bad luck, incident to, if not inseparable from, the undertakings involved. To men of wealth who are constantly on the lookout for "speculations" in the street, and can afford to risk part of their means for the chances of extra profit or extra dividends, such disappointments come in the way of business, but it is not so with well-to-do people, in city and country, who seldom visit the Stock Exchange, and who for a quiet life had best keep their money at 6 per cent. in United States 5-20s, until they are called in for redemption, and then make haste to secure the next best rate of interest on the same solid security.

TITUSVILLE, May 5.—The Herald says: The market exhibited more activity yesterday upon the lower creek, especially than for several days past, and prices appreciated from five to ten cents per barrel. In this locality there was considerable more inquiry, and buyers were more inclined to operate than for some time past. The market opened on the lower road with $4 25 bid, and from $4 30 to $4 35 asked. At the close $4 30 was offering for regardless, with sellers at $4 35. Upon the upper creek there was but little inquiry for regular, but spot sold readily for $4 10, and at the close $4 12½ was offered. The market closed firm.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, May 6, 1871.

The inactivity of raw iron noted in our review of last week still prevails, and sales have been meagre—current receipts of standard forge pig are being principally placed on prior contracts.

[illegible]

... changing come at the prices of Wednesday, and tonight all leave for the East. The sheep market is over for the week, and the pens are mostly cleaned up. The prospect for next week looks favorable. The following are the rates current to-day: Good to prime, 85 to 90 lbs, $5 50 to $6 25; decent to fair, 75 to 80 lbs, $5 25 to $5 75; mean to common, 70 to 75 lbs, $4 75 to $5 00; foot rot and scalawags, by the head, $1 75.

IRON MARKETS.

CLEVELAND.

May 3.—The inquiry for pig iron is moderately active, but not so brisk as at last report. Receipts of charcoal from Lake Superior have rendered the market easier for this brand, and we quote it at a nominal decline of $1 from last week's figures. Foundry irons maintain a good movement, but the demand for forge is light. Sales during the week have been mainly to supply immediate wants. There is no Scotch iron offering. The receipts by vessel during the week were 1,196 tons.

IRON MANUFACTURE IN WISCONSIN.

Wisconsin is destined to become a great iron producing State. The quality of native ores found within our borders, or easily accessible by the lakes, has been fully tested and they are acknowledged to be excellent. The only serious question has been in regard to fuel for reduction. Up to a recent date this seemed an almost insurmountable obstacle. But the success of the Bay View rolling mill shows that this difficulty has been overcome. Cheap Illinois coal is also within reach and can easily be made available. Appleton, Fond du Lac, and other points at the north are giving the experiment of making iron with charcoal a fair test. In the meantime, a solution of the difficulties has come to us from an unlooked for source. A Norwegian has invented a furnace which will utilize peat, sawdust, tan-bark, wood, shavings, or other light or damp fuel, in such a manner as to smelt iron with them alone, or when mixed with coal. This furnace has been thoroughly tested in Norway and Sweden, and so complete was its success that the Swedish iron masters donated the inventor $[illegible]. It is proposed to introduce this furnace at Fond du Lac. In the vicinity of that city inexhaustible beds of peat are known to exist, and if the furnace is capable of producing iron with this kind of fuel as economically as it is claimed, Fond du Lac and many other places have the means at hand to become leading manufacturers of iron.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

IRONTON.

May 3.—The market is without change and a scarcity still exists at the landings.

Many lots of inferior quality, in the hands of commission merchants, are reported sold, while several furnaces are entirely out, either at home or in market.

The furnaces that have started up thus far are moving off well, and are producing more than their usual average of the best quality of iron.

Lawrence, during the first twelve days run, made an average of ten tons per day of No. 1 cold blast car wheel. A most excellent start.

OFFICIAL SURVEY OF THE OHIO RIVER FROM PITTSBURGH TO CAIRO.—At the request of our river friends we have published a third edition of this important table, with various improvements. It can be obtained at the COMMERCIAL office at ten cents per copy, or three copies for twenty-five cents.

THE fine steamer Kate Putnam, Capt. Evans, is announced for Louisville, Evansville and Nashville. This boat runs regularly in the trade, has fine accommodations and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Mr. Wm. Harbison, who has charge of the office, will see that passengers have the best of attention.

NEW ORLEANS, May 3.—During a severe storm of rain and wind last night, the steamers W. S. Pike, Frank Pargoud, Kellogg, Enterprise and Leonidas lost their chimneys. All the boats received sundry other damages which will not amount to much, with the exception of the Leonidas. She encountered the storm at Bayou Sara, and the forward part of the upper works is a complete wreck. The storm extended all the way up the river, as far as we have learned, to Bayou Sara. The Pargoud encountered the storm at the foot of Grandview Reach; also the Enterprise and Kellogg. The W. S. Pike was at Baton Rouge. It is reported that the roofs of many houses and the walls of the penitentiary were also destroyed. The Leonidas will be obliged to remain here some time to repair the damages. Captain Ransom, of the Trinity river packet Nora, and lady leave this evening on the Nick Longworth for Rochester, Pennsylvania. The estimated loss on the above steamers is fifty thousand dollars. No lives lost.

STOCKS.

In the stock market the "bulls" made another attempt to advance prices, but without much success. The volume of business throughout the day was generally light, and no large blocks of stock changed hands. The market had very much the appearance of a broker's market. Reading and Lake Shore were the strongest in the list on a rumor that scrip dividend on the latter had been received, and Erie advanced a little at the close. Express shares are full and firm. Stocks have been turned in several instances to-day at a charge of ⅛ per cent. for buyers on 60 days. The market closed steady.

Hoofland's German Bitters,

A Bitters WITHOUT ALCOHOL OR SPIRITS of any kind, is Different from all others. It is composed of the pure juices, or VITAL PRINCIPLE OF ROOTS, HERBS and BARKS, (or, as medically termed, Extracts), the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore, in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medical virtue as will be found in several gallons of ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, where they are compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others; no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use; they cannot make drunkards, and cannot, under any circumstances, have any but a beneficial effect.

Hoofland's German Tonic

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme Bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each Bottle of the Tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the Bitters is overcome, forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasing to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1 50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article? A medical preparation should contain none but the best ingredients, and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefitted by it, will most certainly be cheated.

The Whole Supreme Court of Pennsylvania Speak for These Remedies.

Who would ask for more Dignified and Stronger Testimony?

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, formerly Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, at present Member of Congress from Philadelphia, writes:

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action in the system. Yours truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD.

HON. JAMES THOMPSON, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1867.

I consider "Hoofland's German bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it.

Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON.

HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, Justice of the Supreme Court Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1 1868.

I have found by experience that "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a very good tonic, relieving dyspeptic symptoms almost directly. GEORGE SHARSWOOD.

HON. WM. F. ROGERS, Mayor of the City of Buffalo, New York.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, BUFFALO, June 22, 1869.

I have used "Hoofland's German Bitters and Tonic" in my family during the past year, and can recommend them as an excellent tonic, imparting tone and vigor to the system. Their use has been productive of decidedly beneficial effects. WM. F. ROGERS.

HON. JAMES M. WOOD, ex-Mayor of Williamsport, Pa.

I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep any food on my stomach, and I became so weak as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure. JAMES M. WOOD.

REMEMBER THAT

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

AND

WILL CURE EVERY CASE OF

MARASMUS,

OR WASTING AWAY OF THE BODY.

REMEMBER THAT

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES

Are the medicines you require to purify the Blood, excite the torpid Liver to healthy action, and to enable you to pass safely through any hardships or exposure.

DR. HOOFLAND'S

PODOPHYLLIN,

OR

SUBSTITUTE FOR MERCURY PILLS,

TWO PILLS A DOSE.

The Most Powerful, Yet Innocent, Vegetable Cathartic known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels of all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it speedily from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases, in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, REGULATES the Liver and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain its hold, or ever assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by Express to any locality, upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE, at the GERMAN MEDICINE STORE, 631 ARCH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

Continuation of the Investigation as to Who is Governor.

NEW HAVEN, May 5.—The legislative committee to examine the vote for Governor met here to-day to inquire into the Fourth ward vote. The Town Clerk of New Haven was examined, and testified as to the whereabouts of the box since election. He was asked to produce the Fourth ward State box, but could not identify it. The Moderator of the Fourth ward identified the box by the tally on the seal and other marks, and swore as to the correctness of the count, and how it was taken and reported. The Registrar identified the box by the same signs, and swore to the accuracy of the checking. The certified check list was produced in evidence, and sworn to by the town clerk. The box was then produced and the votes recounted. In the box were found six packages for Jewell, three containing 100 ballots each, two 50 each, one 63, and 13 scattering for him; total for Jewell 479. For English five packages of 100 each, one of 95, one marked scratched, one of 112, and 14 scattering for him; total for English, 719. Jewell's vote on recount was 100 less than the official return. The recount for Representatives gives the same count as the official return. The Democrats 605, Republicans 577. The committee meet again Monday.

HARTFORD, May 5.—Since the development about the ballot box in the Fourth ward of New Haven, the Republicans have expressed the positive belief that the box has been tampered with since election day. The box was locked with a common key, and not sealed. As full an investigation as possible will be made.

THE WEST INDIES.

Captain Dickson Released—Latest from Port-au-Prince—Popular Mistrust of the Haytien Ministry—The President Threatens to Resign—The Hornet—Advices from St. Thomas.

KINGSTON, JAM., May 4, via HAVANA, May 5.—The Judges have released Captain Dickson, of the brigantine Penniman, notwithstanding the objections of the accusers.

News from Port-au-Prince to the 3d have been received. The people mistrust the ministry. The Secretary of Finance was accused of malfeasance and resigned, and on the following night his books and papers were burned by unknown persons. The people became excited and the President presented his resignation, but the people objected to its reception, fearing the resignation was the forerunner of another war. American provisions were scarce, coffee deliveries are concluded and the cotton crop is a failure.

The Hornet remains at Port-au-Prince, closely watched by a Spanish cruiser. She was running deeply in debt, and has been obliged to sell her coals.

An earthquake was felt in Hayti on the 30th. No damage is reported.

Advices from St. Thomas to the 1st report that the laying of the telegraph cable to St. Kitts was progressing with every prospect of success. The steamer Florida had arrived there. She is suspected of being a filibuster and is carefully watched by a Spanish man-of-war.

HAVANA, May 5.—The rainy season has commenced.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5, 1871.

TROUBLE WITH CHINA PROBABLE.

A Chinese tract translated into English, has been received here, and it abounds in the most horrible misrepresentations of the Christian religion, and draws a fearful picture for the Chinese race if they longer allow it to have a foothold in their country. The belief is expressed here by high officials that news may soon be expected from China which will cause some action on the part of the administration on the question of the further continuance of diplomatic relations with that country.

REPUBLICAN TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION.

The Republicans to-night had a torchlight procession, after which there was a complimentary serenade by the Republican General Committee to the officers of the territorial government at the residence of Mr. Ordway, Sergeant-at-arms of the House. Governor Cook, Mr. Ordway and others made speeches. President Grant had accepted an invitation to be present, but just as he was on the eve of leaving the Executive Mansion the High Commission detained him by a visit.

COTTON.

The receipts of cotton at all ports for the week were 51,806 bales; exports 75,763 bales; stock 487,625 bales.

THE LABOR CONVENTION.

The Labor Convention met at Cooper Institute to-night, at which the principal topic of discussion was the utility of trades unions. E. H. Heywood, President of the New England Labor Reform League, thought that, as now constituted, trades unions were injuring the working classes. He condemned the claim of the workingmen for ten hours' pay for eight hours' work as dishonest, and denounced the Government for robbing the nation to overpay its office-holders. The views of Mr. Heywood were sharply contested by Mr. Drury, of this city, and others. Opinions were generally expressed that trades when better organized should go into politics and make themselves felt. The convention will remain in session three days.

THE THIRD ARMY CORPS

Held its Seventh Anniversary Reunion at the Astor House to-day. There was a very large attendance of officers from various parts of the Union. In the absence of General Sickles, the chair was occupied by Captain J. B. Tassell. The annual statement was read, showing that the funds at the disposal of the association were running down. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Gen. Chas. K. Graham; Vice President, Clayton Michael; Secretary, Dr. Culling; Assistant Secretary, Captain Demorest. A resolution was passed allowing the election of honorary members, Gen. De Peyster and T. Cooke were made honorary members. After the banquet Gen. De Peyster, who wrote the history of the Third Army Corps, was presented with a gold medal. Brief speeches were made by Gens. Heintzelman, O'Brien and De Peyster, Cols. Morgan, Stewart and Woodford.

Woman's Suffrage Association.

Last evening the Woman's Suffrage Association of Allegheny county held its first anniversary meeting in the hall of Post 151, G. A. R., at No. 104 Fourth avenue. The meeting was called to order at quarter to eight o'clock, by the President, after which the minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved. The annual report of the Secretary was then read and received.

An election for officers to serve for six months was now proceeded with, with the following result: President, Miss Matilda Hindman; Vice Presidents, Mrs. J. Herron Foster and Mrs. A. Mitchell; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Helen Jenkins; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Annie Wilcox; Treasurer, Miss Emma Wilcox; Executive Committee, Mr. Proudfoot, Miss Jennie Hindman, Mrs. McKelvy, Mr. Berger and Miss Kelly.

Miss Matilda Hindman stated that a petition had been drawn up, asking Congress to grant woman the right of suffrage. The petition would be circulated in the two cities for signatures, and returned to the Woman's Suffrage Association of Philadelphia in December, whence it would be forwarded to Washington. The petition was then read.

The retiring President then made a few remarks, referring to the progress the suffrage movement had already made, and holding that it would eventually be successful. Addresses were also delivered by Miss Jennie Hindman, Mr. Maitland and others.

Mr. Berger moved that hereafter the Secretary be instructed to call the roll of members at each meeting. Carried.

ALL persons interested are requested to attend a meeting to be held at Wilkesbarre, commencing on the 16th, for the purpose of investigating the more economical production of the useful metals and minerals, and the means of securing greater safety and welfare to the men employed. An "American Institute of Mining Engineers" will be organized. The mornings will be devoted to visiting the mines, furnaces and other works of interest in the vicinity, and the afternoons to the reading of papers, of which several have been promised, and the discussion of subjects of interest to the profession; and it is specially desired that as many as possible of those practically engaged in the management of mines, furnaces, etc., should be present and contribute papers on their respective branches of the profession. It is also proposed to establish a periodical for the purpose of publishing such papers, discussions, etc., as may be of interest to the members of the Institute. Arrangements will be made with several railroads to furnish free return passes to those attending.

The New York legislature, at its last session, passed a law by which damages may be recovered by any woman, married or single, for words spoken, impugning unchastity to her, and it shall not be necessary for her to prove special damages.

CITY MATTERS.

THE MAYHEM CASE.

Newell Waives a Hearing, and in Default of $8,000 Bail is Committed.

At ten o'clock yesterday morning John Newell, whose brutal treatment of officer Johnson, of the Mayor's police, we mentioned yesterday, was brought down from jail for a hearing on the two charges preferred against him by the officer. The two informations were read to Newell, and he announced that he would waive a hearing for court, as he was not now prepared for a hearing. The Mayor stated that he would fix the bail in the mayhem case at $5,000, and in the aggravated assault and battery case at $3,000, and that unless he would give the $8,000 bail he would commit him for the June term of court.

Newell states that he was on the defensive, and not on the aggressive in the fight. He thought from the manner of Grant and the officer, that they both had revolvers, and that Grant did have one, which he pulled out and threatened to use on Newell. He denies offering provocation to Johnson, but says that the latter was there, not as a policeman, but as the champion and protector of Grant, whom he knew Newell had threatened to whip on account of the foot race, if he ever came to the city. He says he did not offer violence or abuse to the officer until the officer had knocked him through a window. Then they clinched and went down. When he bit at the officer's ear, he says, Johnson was trying to gouge his eyes and to bite his nose. This is the substance of his statement, and there were those present at the Mayor's office yesterday who said that they saw the whole affair, and could corroborate Newell's story. However much or however little truth there may be in this statement, it does not lessen in any degree the enormity of Newell's performance, or constitute any excuse for its brutality. We give the statement in order that all parties may have a fair hearing.

In this connection we would state that a gentleman, who saw the affair, came to the Mayor's office yesterday as a voluntary witness, and his statement corroborated, in almost every particular, that of officer Johnson on Thursday. The heavy bail demanded in the aggravated assault and battery case is explained by the fact that the information charges that the offense was committed on a police officer while in the discharge of his duty.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

This Court met yesterday morning, Judge McCandless having so far recovered as to be able to sit upon the bench. The following business was done:

W. T. Brown & Bro. were sentenced to pay the fine of $66 and costs, for exercising the business of coffee roasters without license.

Thomas Collins and Martin Smith, both of Venango county, plead guilty to indictments for carrying on the retail liquor business without paying the special tax. The defendants were each sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and to undergo six months' imprisonment in the Venango county jail, the minimum sentence allowed by law.

THE TRUST CONVICTION.

Joseph Plattenburgh, of Luzerne county, pleaded guilty to two indictments for passing counterfeit money of the People's National Bank, Michigan. The Court suspended sentence on one indictment, and on the other the defendant was sentenced to pay a fine of five hundred dollars and five years' imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary. This was the minimum sentence allowed by law.

No other criminal cases will be tried at this term, the witnesses having been discharged. Neither will they be taken up in the Circuit Court, but will be tried at a special term of the District Court, to be announced hereafter.

All of the recognizances for this term of Court were forfeited and respited.

On motion of T. C. Lazear, Esq., John B. Hunkston, of Chester, Pa., was duly admitted to practice. Court then adjourned.

Common Pleas—Judge Stowe.

The case of B. F. Jennings & Co. vs. Blakeley & Mechling occupied the attention of this court yesterday. This was an action on a contract. Jury out.

The jury in the case of James Old vs. Gen. James S. Negley and J. E. Lippincott, tried on Thursday, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $202 51.

District Court—Judges Hampton and Kirkpatrick.

In Judge Hampton's branch the Hays vs. McDonald steamboat case is still on trial.

In Judge Kirkpatrick's branch the first case called was that of T. Gehring & Bro. vs. J. A. Carothers. This was an action on a judgment note. Verdict for plaintiffs in the sum of $421.

The next case placed on trial was that of Elizabeth Handschin, for use, vs. Wm. Adams, et al. This was an action to revive judgment. Verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $400.

This branch of the Court then adjourned.

CITY MATTERS IN BRIEF.

CITY COUNCILS will meet on Monday afternoon.

SEVERAL boys were arrested and locked up yesterday for stealing a skiff from the Allegheny river.

THE United States Grand Jury has returned eighteen indictments against the noted counterfeiter "Bob," the maximum punishment of which is two hundred and forty years and the minimum ninety years.

MR. WIGGINS, formerly conductor on the Fort Wayne Railroad, as many of his old patrons will remember, has been appointed Superintendent of the road, vice J. D. Layng, who has been assigned to a similar position at Columbus. Mr. Wiggins is well qualified for his new place, and will no doubt, as heretofore, render entire satisfaction.

IN reporting the financial condition of the Young Men's Bible Society, yesterday, we used the word "expenses" instead of "disbursements" for the year. The receipts were as stated, $3,160 15; deducting disbursements for the year ($2,876 30), the balance in treasury is $283 85.

IT is estimated that the applicants for license to sell liquors will pay to their counsel, in fees, not less than $10,000. Two or three of the leading practitioners in the License Court claim that they will make nearly one thousand dollars each, out of their clients, before the cases are all heard. "It's an ill wind," etc.

A LARGE number of the "taverns" with "four rooms and eight beds" each, have been closed up since the 1st of May, and yet we hear no clamoring among "strangers and travelers" for lack of accommodations. Half a dozen good taverns in each ward would serve the public infinitely better than the scores of drinking saloons now passing under that name.

A VERY pleasant evening was spent on Thursday by the members of the Hazelwood Presbyterian Church, at the residence of the pastor, J. S. Stuchell, near Marion Station. The occasion inaugurated a sociable which is to be continued hereafter once a month. The evening, as we have said, passed off in the most enjoyable manner, the Reverend gentleman and his lady doing everything in their power to produce such enjoyment.

STREET COMMISSIONER LINDERMAN on yesterday saw a drunken man get up from his seat on a pile of stones on Bluff street, near Stevenson, and stagger away, manifestly under the impression that he was going away from the bluff. Instead of that, however, he was staggering, as directly as he could, towards the precipice, and in another moment would have pitched over it. Mr. Linderman ran and caught hold of the man just in time to save him.

THE end wall and a portion of the side wall of a dwelling in Splane's Court, in the rear of the COMMERCIAL Building, fell into the excavation for Judge Mellon's new bank building, on Smithfield street yesterday morning. The family who occupied the house had been notified that the recent rains had unsettled the foundation, and they had vacated the premises. No one was injured, and the furniture in the house was not damaged materially. The house as well as the foundation for the new bank, stands upon a portion of "Hog's Pond."

THE principal practitioners before the License Board are W. D. Moore, John Coyle, John C. McCarthy, Wm. Reardon and Josiah Cohen. A great many other attorneys appear occasionally, while not a few of the more dignified have not made their appearance in the Court at all. The fees charged range from ten dollars up to twenty-five. Nearly every applicant now has an attorney. Some of those gentlemen mentioned above will pocket several hundred dollars each during the sitting of the Board.

GEORGE JOHNSTON, colored, was employed some weeks ago to do some whitewashing at the house of Mr. Morganstern, clothier. After he had done the work, a gold watch and chain belonging to Miss Frowenfeld, a niece of Mr. Morganstern, were missed. It was afterwards found at De Roy's pawn shop, and identified by the owner. It had been pawned for nine dollars. Mr. De Roy did not know Johnston personally, but kept a look out for him, and yesterday morning he came to the shop with a banjo, which he wished to pawn. He was arrested and committed by the Mayor to answer for the larceny of the watch.

IT is the easiest thing in the world to prove good character, when the character of the proof is unquestioned. Some queer customers appear in the License Court to bolster up the reputation of applicants for "morality" and "sobriety." According to these worthies, there is not an immoral or an intemperate tavern keeper in the whole county—not one! Among the witnesses called in a case recently, was a fiery-faced fellow lately convicted of a criminal offense in the Quarter Sessions, who swore to the honesty, sobriety and morality of the applicant. It would have been difficult for the witness to have proved himself possessed of such good qualities.

CAN a femme sole trader give a bond to the Commonwealth, so as to take out a license to sell liquors? This point was raised in the License Court yesterday, in the case of Wilhelmena Myers, who admitted that she was a married woman, and not divorced from her husband. Major Negley took the ground that she was not able to take out a license as she was legally incompetent to execute a bond. Her counsel, J. E. McKelvy, Esq., stated that she was a femme sole trader, under decree of the Court, and could execute a bond. Major Negley held that the femme sole did not help the case any, and said he would test the point if the license was granted.

AT a late meeting of the Board of Health bills were presented from the several city papers for publishing the notice in reference to free vaccination. Warrants were ordered for the payment of all but three of the bills, the amounts of which were considered unreasonable. Especially was this so with one of them, that of a morning official organ, which was $37, whilst those ordered to be paid did not exceed $25. But if this difference surprised the Board, the reader can the better judge of their astonishment on learning from the Health Officer, when the bill was about to be referred back to him to secure a reduction of $20—the bill when first rendered having been $57. The Board thought a little light was needed, and so informed the Health Officer.

THE iron screw propeller, built at the boiler yard of Douglass & Son, at the south end of the Monongahela bridge, for Capt. Packer and others, and so frequently described in these columns, left yesterday on her first trip South. She took down 40,000 bushels of "black diamonds" destined for Baton Rouge. A large crowd of persons assembled upon the bridge to look at the little "tug" getting into readiness, and a great many were astonished to see such a diminutive looking craft attempting the guidance of the mammoth coal barges so familiar to the denizens of Pittsburgh. The "tug" rests upon the water, moves very gracefully, and is withal an entire success, for which the builder and owners should feel very proud.

ALLEGHENY.

ITEMS IN BRIEF.

LAST evening, shortly before eight o'clock, a lamp in the second story of a house occupied by Mr. Carroll, located on the old canal bed, between Robinson and Lacock streets, was upset. The oil flowed out of the lamp and caused quite a blaze, but a lot of bed clothes was thrown upon it and the fire smothered. An alarm was sounded from box 25, but the services of the firemen were not required.

MR. E. M. JENKINS, of Allegheny, received a letter yesterday from Mr. Cook, the great European excursionist, who will accompany the Sir Knights on their European tour. Enclosed in the letter was an invitation from the Earl of Shrewsbury to the visiting Sir Knights, asking them to participate in the Masonic re-union and fete to be held at Alton Towers, England, on the Fourth of July next. It is quite probable that arrangements will be made so that the invitation can be accepted, as the locality itself is well worth visiting.

SOUTH SIDE.

ITEMS IN BRIEF.

A SITE for a female seminary on the South Side is being looked up.

A LARGE number of the taverns on the South Side have been refused license.

THE capital stock of Ormsby Passenger Railway will be increased to $50,000.

THE East Birmingham Council will meet on Tuesday evening; also, Birmingham Council on same evening.

ABOUT one hundred and forty-two dollars in fines were collected by the Justices of the Peace of East Birmingham during April.

THE young ladies of Friendship Lodge, I. O. of G. T., Birmingham, have presented the Lodge with a handsome Bible. Mr. Frank Gestner presented on behalf of the ladies, and W. C. T., N. Jones, replied on behalf of the Lodge.

A HEARING in the case of John Mulvey and John Irwin, who were arrested on suspicion of being the persons who committed the robbery, at the house of Mr. Rodgers, East Birmingham, will be held on next Monday evening, at the office of Justice Ammon. At which time Mr. Rodgers is expected to be present and identify the accused.

SATURDAY night a policeman of East Birmingham arrested a party of men for drunkenness. They were taken before a Justice, when each one went the other's bail and all were released. They then charged the officer with drunkenness, and he having no bail, was sent to the lock-up, notwithstanding, as our reporter is informed, he was perfectly sober. Next morning he was released, but he has not been fined as yet, nor has he been granted a hearing. The Chief of Police intends to procure a hearing for him.

Public Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—The great spectacle, the "Black Crook," will be presented this afternoon and evening for the last time. It is to be produced in Cleveland on Monday evening.

On Monday evening Johnny Allen, comedian, is announced to appear in a new sensational play called "Schneider." He is a new candidate for favor in this line.

LIBRARY HALL.—The pupils of Miss M. J. Appelbe are to give a vocal concert at Library Hall on Tuesday evening. Miss Appelbe is an accomplished musician and a thorough-going teacher, and if persistent practice will bring success, her pupils will acheive it Tuesday evening.

VARIETIES.—The female minstrels, Cotton and Archer and the members of Manager Aims's company will appear in a lengthy programme at the Varieties' matinee to-day, and again in the evening. The bill for to-night is a grand one, as usual.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Carncross & Dixey's troupe, from Philadelphia, are to give performances at the Academy of Music next week, commencing on Monday evening. They manage to compress a greater amount of fun into a shorter time than any other company we know of. There is also an excellent quartette, who render the newest of the popular ballads most effectively. They can count on crowded houses and well pleased patrons.

ON THE RED LION LOT.—Rosston, Springer & Henderson's great combination of attractions—circus, menagerie and Arabs—had more visitors yesterday afternoon and last night than their vast tents would hold, hundreds being unable to obtain even standing room. And a noticeable feature in the audiences was the great number of our most respectable citizens. The performances are free from everything objectionable, and therefore deserving of support. The street parade yesterday was very fine, and attracted much attention. There will be another parade through the principal streets this morning, and performances afternoon and evening. The Red Lion lot can be reached by entrances from Sixth or Penn streets.

AMONG THE ADVANTAGES CLAIMED FOR THE WEED SEWING MACHINE PLEASE NOTE THE FOLLOWING:

We condense the many advantages into a few brief facts, and by taking them into timely consideration many of the annoyances which encumber the higher priced and inferior machines will be obviated. There is a perfection in its manufactured parts never before attained in sewing machines. Like Colt's pistols, every single part is duplicated, and if by accident or otherwise, any part should be broken, any lady can remove it, and by procuring a new part, can as easily replace it. This is a very great desideratum, as it never requires (as is sometimes the case with other sewing machines) that it should be sent miles to the office to be repaired, which is often inconvenient as well as expensive.

Every part is made with the exactness and perfection of a lever watch, and being made of the best steel, is recommended as being more durable than any other machine heretofore offered to the public.

It makes the famous lock stitch, which is universally approved as being the only stitch adapted to first-class work.

The needle is straight, therefore sure and powerful.

The speed is rapid, thus producing great effect with but little effort.

It runs quietly and easily.

The tension is simple and effective.

The attachments for hemming, braiding, &c., are of the most approved style.

It is completely protected against the dropping of oil and soiling dresses, &c.

Messrs. John Biggert & Son, at 116 Market street, are the general agents for this popular family favorite, and we do earnestly solicit a call for those who wish a first-class machine at a reasonable price to drop into their handsome parlors and examine the work and the simplicity of the Weed.

One of the most fashionable and stylish assortments of boots and shoes, of all kinds we have ever seen, is at the store of Messrs. Konold & Co., at 19 Fifth avenue. Ladies and gentlemen will find a magnificent display, and ought to be particular to give them a call when in want of anything in the shoe line.

MASON & HAMLIN AND THE EUREKA GRAND ORGAN OF MESSRS. MELLOR & HOENE, 53 FIFTH AVENUE.

The cultivated taste for organs that are conceded super-excellent has found in the Mason & Hamlin organ that relief which it has long sought. It is unnecessary to dwell at any great length upon this subject, but we will allude to a few of the essential requisites they possess. First, they have a universal reputation, both in America and Europe, and are acknowledged to be the standard of excellence among instruments of this class. Second, they have uniformly been awarded the highest premiums and medals, and in tone and perfection of construction they embody the latest and best results of inventive genius.

Another organ now being introduced by this popular emporium is the "Eureka Grand Organ." This style of organ is entirely new, and is the most unique and beautiful instrument ever invented for home use. The design of the furniture is handsome and attractive, and the finish is of the very best and most durable kind, and the amount of musical power possessed by the Eureka Grand Organs, the purity and beauty of their tone, and the great variety of effect that can be produced on them is wonderful.

There are many valuable and reliable improvements such as the Patent Octave Coupler, which doubles the power of the instrument; the new and improved Vox Humana Tremolo, which produces the closest imitation of the human voice; the Vox Celeste and Jubilante. In addition to the agencies of these organs Messrs. Mellor & Hoene have a piano manufactured expressly for them, which is meeting with a large demand, owing to the many qualities of high priced instruments combined into one, which is offered at liberal terms, and conditions to be within the reach of all. Call at the Musical Emporium where the accomplished and enterprising firm are always in attendance and in readiness to prove every assertion that has been advanced.

GENTS' SCARFS,

"KURO-SHUWA, OR BLACK TIDE,"

Is the Gulf Stream of the Pacific, sweeping around the southern and eastern coasts of Japan, keeping it warm and enabling the Japanese to raise oranges, the cole palm and tea. The latter is shipped direct from Japan to the Fusi Yama Tea Importing Company at No. 140 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh. Sold wholesale and retail.

Ask your grocer for them.

THEY UNDERSTAND THE BUSINESS.

In this every one will agree with us, if they will take a look into Shaffer's bazaar and survey the premises, inspect the magnificent display of carriages which Messrs. McKelvy & Co. have just brought on from the eastern markets. If a person wishes to buy a carriage, wagon, barouche or phaeton, and can't find one amongst the lot to select from and the prices to suit, then we shall begin to think there are a few impossibilities in Pittsburgh. Messrs. McKelvy & Co. are the great and enterprising house of this city, and they can and do give such liberal inducements to buyers that there is no excuse in having an old or second hand vehicle about. The small outlay required will more than be compensated for in the ease and elegance, and in knowing "how it is yourself" in having a handsome chaise or wagon. A call is solicited by the firm, and take our word for it you will not regret seeing even if you do not wish to buy.

ASK YOUR GROCER

Something New in the Organ Line.

We have had the pleasure of examining, at the new piano and organ salesrooms of S. Hamilton & Co., 51 Fifth avenue, one of the most beautiful, as well as one of the most useful and ornamental instruments in the organ line that has ever come under our notice. It is a library organ, of new and beautiful design, standing over eight feet in height. The top is most beautifully ornamented with chaste engravings, and the front or library doors are set off with a neat and faultless pipe organ front, and the carvings on the body of the case are the most elegant and perfect piece of work we have ever seen put on an organ, being worked in grapevine, with full cluster of grapes. The lid is a sliding one, folding up and sliding beneath the top, making in all its arrangements one of the most perfect and complete instruments we could conceive of, and withal a marvel of cheapness, being only $275. We understand the proprietors, S. H. & Co. intend getting a large stock of these beautiful instruments on just as soon as they can be got ready, and we commend them for it, as they are certainly destined to become very popular. This enterprising new firm have about the largest and most complete stock of organs and pianos in the city, ranging in price from $60 upwards, and no one can go into their salesrooms without coming away satisfied that to get a bargain in either piano or organ you have only to call and compare their instruments and prices with any other house in the city. They are determined to sell their instruments at such terms as will defy competition. They guarantee to sell lower than any other house in the city, and you can depend on it they will do it. Monthly payments taken, old instruments taken in part pay for new ones at their full value; every instrument fully warranted at S. Hamilton & Co.'s New Music House, 51 Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh.

Cheap Trusses for Hernia.

No greater imposition is ever practiced than that of cheap trusses for those afflicted with rupture. Cheap trusses are like everything else that is cheap; that is, will hardly ever answer the purpose intended. We say to our readers, without equivocation, that the best place in this city to get full and entire satisfaction is at DR. KEYSER'S, 167 Liberty street. The Doctor will fit you, and, if there is a possibility of cure, will cure you. He has had over thirty years of experience in the business. Most of the others have only entered upon it, and if a man wants safety in anything it is in one of so serious a matter as that of Hernia, or Rupture, in which delay can do nothing but harm, and we feel ourselves in duty bound to recommend our readers to the very best place; therefore, without making any invidious distinction, we recommend, as a place of safety and security, that of Dr. KEYSER, at 167 Liberty street. Cut this out, as it will not be published again. Trusses as cheap as anywhere in the city.

ST. JAMES EUROPEAN HOTEL.

An Excellent Restaurant on the Second Floor—Col. James K. Lanahan, Proprietor.

This popular house for the accommodation of the public who give preference to the European plan of hotels, will find this one of the best arranged and kept hotels in Pittsburgh. It is easy of access, being opposite the Union Depot, and their large and convenient rooms are handsomely furnished and decorated, giving them an air of refinement and home-like appearance. The restaurant on the first floor is under the immediate supervision of Colonel James K. Kanahan, the proprietor. A handsome bill of fare is offered to the guests, with everything that the market affords. Especial pains is taken by the Colonel to have the first of the season, and so gotten up in style of cooking that cannot fail to please the most fastidious taste of epicures.

His cellars contain the choicest of wines and liquors, and his brand of cigars can be called par excellent of brands, foreign and domestic, from the Wheeling toby to the super excellent Henry Clays.

We think the traveling public will (those prefering the European plan) find as we have stated, that the St. James has all the necesary requirements, and is so conducted that will ensure the continuance of patronage from their first introduction, the location being admirably adapted to the conveniences of the traveling public, being directly opposite the depot.

Mr. Joseph Liebler.

The above named gentleman's friends are making active and seemingly successful efforts to bring his true worth and merit before the people, and in presenting his claims for the municipal chair, they have carefully noticed his business capacity and reliability. Knowing from the favorable personal observations that have been made that he is in every way worthy and capable of filling all trusts reposed in him. To be convinced of his earnest and increasing efforts to do justice, call in and give him an order for a trunk that will stand every and all usages of the day; and if a person can't be suited, or is disposed to find fault with him or his work, we are disposed to say they would find equally as good a reason to find fault if they were going to be hung. The interests of the public with those of Mr. Liebler are mutual; therefore, consider well when about to nominate a choice of man and house.

This Cement has by far the most extensive sale west of the Alleghanies.

Most of the Public Works of the West and South for thirty-five years have been constructed with it.

Though our unequaled superior strength and quality the Manufacturers are determined to put it in all the principal markets at prices to compete with inferior brands.

It takes more Sand than any other Cement, and is cheap enough in Pittsburgh to supercede all common limes in the foundations of good buildings.
